

Demand Yugoslav Vessels

UNES Council Called Upon to Restore 147 Reportedly Held in U.S. Zone

By Max Harrelson
LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Yugoslavia called on the United Nations Economic and Social Council today to take immediate action to restore to her 167 Yugoslav vessels which she reported held in the U. S. zone of occupation on the upper Danube.

The Yugoslav delegate, Stane Krasovec, made his demand as the council opened its third session to take up a crowded agenda which included such issues as future care for refugees.

He spoke after U. S. representative Ernest Penrose proposed that the Yugoslav item on the agenda be broadened to permit full discussion of other questions regarding the Danube.

Apparently interpreting the U. S. proposal as a move to postpone discussion of the Yugoslav appeal, Krasovec said he was opposed to it.

Chairman Andrija Stampar of Yugoslavia explained that the United States did not seek to postpone discussion but only wanted to broaden it.

Comment by Russian
Soviet delegate Alexander Feonov, however, said "It seems that the United States intends to raise the whole question of navigation on the Danube" and "this would drown the Yugoslav question."

Stampar disclosed that Czechoslovakia had submitted to the council an appeal similar to that of Yugoslavia regarding barges held by the Allied Control Commission.

F. H. La Guardia, director general of UNRRA, sat near the council table awaiting an opportunity to speak on the refugees question.

Meanwhile, Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko was expected to make a final effort in the Security Council to bolster Ukrainian charges that the present Greek government is a threat to peace in the Balkans.

As the delegates prepared to meet at 1 p. m. (CST) they had before them a Brazilian motion picture that the council leave the Greek case, at least temporarily, and pass on to the next item on the agenda.

There appeared little likelihood, however, that action would be taken on this proposal until after Gromyko had been heard again.

The Soviet delegate already has made two lengthy statements on the Greek question.

The next item on the council's agenda was an equally controversial question—Russia's demands that all members of the United Nations report on the number of troops they have in countries other than those which were formerly enemies of the Allies.

These demands, if supported by the council, would require Great Britain to disclose the number of troops she has in Greece, Iraq and other Allied countries and would force the United States to report on her troops in China. The delegates generally agreed the Soviet proposal would not receive the necessary votes.

May Able to Testify Soon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Rep. Andrew J. May's attorney informed the senate war investigating committee today that barring "complication or relapses" his client will be able to testify in a war contracts inquiry here by September 25.

May, Kentucky democrat, who heads the house military committee, was scheduled to testify July 26, but failed to appear because of what his physician described as a bad heart condition. He later went to his home at Prestonberg, Ky., where he has been recuperating.

May's attorney, Daniel J. Anderson, of Washington, made public a letter to Chairman Mead (D-N. Y.) of the war investigating committee, saying that May will be able to testify for approximately one-hour at a time.

Discontinuing the 'Gen. Wood' Train

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The "General Wood," a daily passenger train operated by the Frisco Lines between St. Louis and Newburg, Mo., to serve Fort Leonard Wood, will be discontinued September 15, the railroad announced today.

The train was put into service during the war, but since the cessation of full scale operations at the army post it had been operated at a loss of $7,000 a month, the announcement said.

Mother of Gen. Eisenhower Dies Suddenly

Death Attributed To Heart Seizure; Had Not Been Ill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will leave with Mrs. Eisenhower at 8 p. m. (EST) tonight for the family home at Abilene, Kans., where the general's mother died today.

The chief of staff will be accompanied by his aide, Lt. Col. James Stack and others.

A reception at Fort Myer, Va., this afternoon in honor of Field Marshall Montgomery, guest of the Eisenhowers, will be held as scheduled, but Gen. Eisenhower will not attend.

Mrs. Eisenhower will receive and Lt. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, director of public information, will represent the War Department. It was explained that the reception was considered an official War Department function.

ABILENE, Kans., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Ida Stover Eisenhower, 84, mother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, died early today at her home.

Mrs. Eisenhower died unexpectedly about 3:15 a. m. after complaining of a pain in her stomach.

Her housekeeper and companion, Mrs. Trula B. Robinson, said she woke up about 3 a. m. asked for a glass of water, and then told Mrs. Robinson to "go back to bed. I'm all right."

Death was attributed to a heart seizure.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who had not been ill, had taken two automobile rides yesterday.

Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Kansas State college, Manhattan, a son, arrived at 8 a. m. and took charge of arrangements for the funeral and burial.

He said General Eisenhower, now in Washington, was expected in Abilene tomorrow afternoon. He presumably will fly in an army plane to Fort Riley and then drive here.

Private Services
Private funeral services will be held at home Friday afternoon. Burial will be in the Abilene cemetery. An army chaplain from Fort Riley will conduct services at the graveside.

Besides General Eisenhower and Milton Eisenhower, Mrs. Eisenhower is survived by three other sons, Arthur B. Eisenhower, vice-president of the Commerce Trust Co. of Kansas City; Edgar N. Eisenhower of Tacoma, Wash.; and Earl D. Eisenhower of Charleroi, Pa.

Earl Eisenhower will fly here with the army chief of staff.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who was named the Kansas Mother of 1945, was born May 1, 1862, at Mount Sidney, Va. She came to Kansas in 1880 to join a brother at Topeka.

She lived here, she attended the old Lewis university at LeCompton, Kas., and it was there that she met her future husband, David Eisenhower. Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower were married Sept. 23, 1885.

Son Born In Texas
The couple first made their home at Hope, Kas., south of here, for a short time, lived at Denison, Texas, where Dwight D. Eisenhower was born. They moved to Abilene in 1892 and the family had lived here since.

During the Eisenhowers' approximately 50 years in Abilene they had lived in only two houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower were the parents of seven sons. One died in infancy and another, Roy J. Eisenhower, a Junction City druggist, died in 1942 shortly after the death of his father.

In her later years, Mrs. Eisenhower had lived with a companion, maintaining a keen interest in "her boys."

Considering Charges of Conspiracy

Against Organizers Of Squatter Invasion in London

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The British government announced late today that criminal conspiracy charges were being considered against Communist organizers of a fast-spreading squatter invasion of vacant private and government-leased dwellings.

A statement from the residence of Prime Minister Attlee said a report on the situation had been submitted to the director of public prosecutions.

"It is the duty of the police to take every step within the limits of their resources to prevent breaches of the law and they have been instructed to prevent further forcible entries," the statement said.

The cabinet was called into a special session tomorrow to consider the squatter situation.

A process server in black coat and striped trousers climbed through a ground floor window of Duchess of Bedford house today and served an eviction notice on 1,000 squatters barricaded within the building, a luxury apartment block in London's fashionable west end.

Summed to Court
Stanley Henderson, secretary of the squatters' committee and a leader of the Communist sponsored movement to commandeer unused dwellings, said he had been summoned to appear in court next Tuesday.

"It is between us and the ministry of works," he added. "I don't fully understand it. I am now going to get legal advice."

The squatters had posted sentries behind barred doors to resist eviction efforts of the Labor government.

Court action to evict squatters also was taken at Birmingham, where Sam Ackwell, secretary of the Midlands district Communist party said "We will fight the squatters case to the last ditch."

The seven-story Duchess of Bedford house, in secluded section of genteel Kensington, was vacant when the squatters moved in as a "direct action" move in the British housing shortage.

Similar siege conditions were developing at the 25 or more other vacant buildings which squatters seized in widely separated areas of greater London.

It's Revolution
The Duchess of Bedford House, privately owned but leased by the government, was the headquarters. A scattering of spectators stood across the street from the building from which only a single child emerged to walk a dog. A gaunt man in tweeds, commented:

"It's revolution, nothing else. Seizing property, defying law and order—I never thought I should see it in England."

Housing Expansion Bill Fails Again

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Public housing expansion for St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph failed again today to get passage from the Missouri house of representatives.

Despite outspoken support of three republican leaders, a group of rural republicans led by Rep. J. S. N. Farquhar hammered the bill to a 61-38 defeat after two hours of bitter argument.

Among the absentees were seven members from St. Louis, seven from Kansas City and three from St. Joseph—more than enough to pass the bill had they been present.

Less Than 700 Planes Between England and Invasion

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The British air ministry revealed today that less than 700 fighter planes, many too slow to catch German bombers, stood between England and a Nazi invasion in the fall of 1940.

"If the fighter defense had failed in the autumn of 1940, England would have been invaded," air chief marshal Lord Dowding said in the statement made public. Lord Dowding, who commanded in the Battle of Britain, said "the situation was critical in the extreme."

meat was purchased by large retailers at high prices during the 71-day period when price controls were off and that it could not be sold at a profit under ceiling prices restored yesterday.

Murrell said that in many instances as much as 300,000 pounds of stored meat was found to be owned by a single retailer.

OPA agents will police retail outlets receiving any part of the supply to guard against sales at above-ceiling prices, Murrell declared.

Great Interest in Building Displayed at C of C Meeting

At a meeting of the housing division of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce office, plans to overcome the acute housing shortage were discussed. Various methods were proposed as possible for providing adequate housing accommodations for newcomers to the city, as well as those who are already here.

Present at the meeting, which was presided over by I. H. Reed, president of the Chamber of Commerce, were members of the division, a large number of contractors, builders, workmen and others, numbering sixty in all.

David H. Powell, federal housing administration district supervisor; Preston H. Moss, chief underwriter, and Edwin C. Kratz, chief architect, all of Kansas City, attended the meeting.

Want Work Speeded Up
Glenn H. Hazlett, of Kansas City, housing expeditor, who had not planned to be in Sedalia, also arrived in time to meet with the group.

Attention was called to the progress being made to bring a measure of relief, but expressions were given at the meeting that there should be more rapid progress in the securing of materials and building equipment for homes.

Harold Dean is chairman of the housing division.

A number of those present are planning to build, either for themselves or to rent or sell, and they asked many questions which were answered by the Kansas Citizens.

It was arranged to send a number of priority application blanks to the Chamber of Commerce, where they may be obtained by the public. Chamber of Commerce will also assist in filling them out if it is so desired.

Boonville Schools To Open Monday

BOONVILLE, Mo., Sept. 11.—(AP)—Dr. M. L. Diehoreger, Cooper county health officer, today announced that public schools, delayed in opening because of polio, would begin classes next Monday.

He took the action after a conference with teachers, physicians and ministers.

The group, in a statement, issued after the meeting, advised "that all unnecessary meetings of any public nature not be held," and recommended protection of children as far as practical against unnecessary contact outside the school room.

Raids Uncover Precious Stones, Metals

Hidden by Nazis Shortly Before German Surrender

FRANKFURT, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Surprise raids throughout the American and British occupation zones of Germany have uncovered millions of dollars worth of precious stones and metals hidden by the Nazis shortly before Germany surrendered, United States Army headquarters announced today.

The diamonds, gold, silver and platinum found in the raids were dispersed in hiding places by the Nazi government agency Reichsstelle Fuer Edelmetalle (Reich Agency for Precious Metals) in an attempt to keep them from falling into Allied hands.

A spokesman for the United States Army Intelligence division said it was "conjectural but conceivable" that the board might have been designed to finance "a resurgence of German nationalist movements."

About $2,500,000 worth of precious stones and metals were found in less than a fourth of the total number of places raided, the spokesman said.

367 Places Raided
A total of 367 different places were raided in the two zones, and the $2,500,000 dollars yield came from the first 79 places to tabulate results.

The army spokesman said the clue to the hiding places came from the typically german detailed records of the "Reich Agency for Precious Metals" which were found last June in Berlin.

Asked why the raids were confined to the British and American zones, he said: "The only records we found pertained to, dispersals in those two zones."

The joint operation throughout the American and British zones and their two sectors in Berlin was supervised by a British-American staff set up in a temporary headquarters at Weisbaden in the American zone and was dubbed "Operation Sparkler."

Large Joint Operation
It was the largest joint operation by the British and Americans since dissolution of the wartime supreme headquarters of Gen. Eisenhower.

Beginning early yesterday morning and ending last midnight, raiders composed of army and military government personnel and German police visited selected firms and banks to seize the stocks of precious stones and metals which had not been declared as required by Allied authorities.

Officials of the public safety and property control sections of the military government guided army constabulary units and selected German police in the swoop.

Reichsstelle Fuer Edelmetalle was organized in 1935 to control the acquisition, sale and exchange of all German stocks of metals and stones.

Act on Meat Situation

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The mid-western division of the National Independent Meat Packers Association was on record today with a demand that meat price controls be modified to permit profitable operation of packing plants now closed.

The group, meeting here yesterday, requested its OPA industry advisory committees to petition Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to make the adjustment.

Arthur B. Maurer, president of the national association, said that 16 of the 34 small packing plants between the Mississippi river and the Rocky mountains already are closed and that many others soon will be forced to close "because of the severe shortage of animals in stockyards." He added that the shortage probably would continue for several weeks.

William G. Mueller of St. Louis, who presided at the meeting, said the main reason for the industry's critical condition was the unwillingness of livestock raisers to market under restrictive government prices.

The meeting was one of a series being held for independent packers throughout the nation by the National Independent Meat Packers Association, which represents about 800 small packing firms.

U. S. Could Demand Huge Sum of Italy

But Renounces Claim To Reparations and Asks Restrictions

PARIS, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The United States renounced today any claim to reparations from Italy "in the interests of international stability," but its spokesman in the Italian economic commission said the United States did not propose to pour help into Italy only to have it go out as reparations to other countries.

The spokesman, Willard Thorp, estimated that $200,000,000 of the United States' total war cost of more than $335,000,000,000 could be attributed to the Italian campaign.

Since the war the United States has sent more than $1,000,000,000 worth of credits into Italy to help its civilian economy, he said, as well as paying the Italian government more than $100,000,000 for army occupation costs which it might have demanded that Italy pay.

The peace conference legal and drafting commission virtually eliminated Australia's proposal for a world court of human rights today by ruling 14 to 2 that the proposal properly belonged in the United Nations and not in the peace treaties.

Only Australia and New Zealand voted to have the court clause which would guarantee certain fundamental freedoms, inserted in the treaties. Russia, White Russia, Poland, the Ukraine and Greece abstained. The Australian delegation immediately served notice it intended to raise the issue again.

In the political and territorial commission, Dr. Ales Bebler, of Yugoslavia, moved into the third chapter of his explanation of Yugoslav demands for more territory from Italy with a long statement asserting Yugoslavia's historical and ethnic right to complete possession of Venezia Giulia and disputed Trieste.

Delegates from the Ukraine and Czechoslovakia supported the Yugoslav contentions, while the Italian embassy in Paris announced that Italy had asked for a plebiscite in Venezia Giulia to settle the disputed border question, which is scheduled to come before a subcommittee holding a night session tonight.

The Czech delegate called for appointment of a sub-committee of nine to study the question of Gorizia. He said the French line, which the foreign ministers council had adopted as the border with Italy, was a detailed delineation, would cut Gorizia in half.

Jewish Problem of World Wide Concern

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Faris Bey El Khoury, president of the Syrian chamber of deputies, declared today the Jewish problem was of world wide concern and that a solution could not be found in Palestine alone.

Speaking for the Arab delegation to the London conference on the future of the Holy Land, Faris Bey said "no part of Palestine should be cut off to make a home or state for a body of immigrants belonging to different nationalities."

Doghouse
HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 11.—(AP)—A 38-year-old Panamanian sailor, an unwitting "stowaway" on the Samuel F. Dewing, was in Houston today trying to figure out what to tell his wife back in Cristobal, Panama.

He said he reached Cristobal on the Dewing, went ashore for a "little party" before going home to his wife, returned to the ship for his papers and went to sleep. When he woke up, he was bound for Houston.

His comment: "My wife, she will not think this so funny."

Flour Prices to be Boosted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—OPA officials reported today that flour prices will be boosted. In the meantime the agency raised ceilings on work gloves and window glass, stripped controls from a score of other items and got set to hike sugar prices.

The agency officials, who asked not to be named, told reporters the flour price increase is in the works but declined to comment on trade rumors that the advance will amount to 20 cents per 100 pounds.

CIO May Join AFL Seamen

Threaten to Strike Also in Event WSB Rejects the Union's Wage Demands

By Max Hall
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The CIO Maritime Union threatened today to join AFL seamen on strike unless the Wage Stabilization Board reverses its denial of higher pay for the AFL workers and also extends the same benefits to the CIO men.

President Joseph Curran of the CIO maritime group voiced the threat as WSB met to make its decision on a reversal and the CIO-dominated committee for maritime unity held a strategy session.

Along with these moves, there were other capital developments in the maritime crisis:

1. Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters there was "no news" and no White House action on the strike.

2. The AFL formally demanded that the WSB reverse its August 23 decision that a wage increase for AFL seamen would have to be held to the $17.50 monthly granted CIO workers earlier.

The AFL is holding out for WSB approval of the ship operators' offer of $22.50 extra for west coast seamen and $27.50 for east coast.

Green Polling Members
3. AFL President William Green reportedly was polling the 15 members of the AFL executive council whether to withdraw its member from the WSB. The union has one of the labor members of the board.

4. A demand for withdrawal of both CIO and AFL members was made by the AFL seamen's strike committee in telegrams to Green and CIO President Philip Murray.

The committee also urged a nationwide 24-hour work stoppage if the WSB refuses to do an about face.

WSB Chairman Willard Wirtz told reporters during a noon recess that there would be no statement from the agency or any member, until late in the day at the earliest. An industry member said the board had "hopes" of announcing its decision at 4 p. m. (CST) press conference, but that this was not certain.

The AFL's formal demand for reversal of WSB's ruling was laid before the board by Walter Mason, the union's alternate member, who was substituting for Robert Watt. The latter showed up later.

The six-man stabilization board met behind closed doors to debate the decision of its lifetime. As the members filed into the conference room, Walter Mason, AFL alternate member, substituting for Robert Watt, reiterated that he would immediately make a motion for reversal. No other member would comment.

The board had to decide: 1. Whether to accede to union and ship owners' pressure and okay a higher than pattern pay boost, or

2. To stand by its August 23 ruling that AFL sailors must be content with the smaller raise won by CIO seamen.

W. Willard Wirtz, 34-year-old board chairman, said the decision may come today or tomorrow.

If the board is to reverse its previous ruling AFL leaders would order their men back to work.

But there were no strong indications that the panel is ready to forsake its position.

Nurse Killed, Another Hurt

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Miss Abilene Green, 20, of Mt. Carmel, Ill., nurse at the Robert W. Long hospital, was slugged fatally by another nurse, Miss Betty Overdeer, 20, of Indianapolis, was injured seriously by a man who broke into the hospital early today.

Dr. John D. Van Nuys, director of the hospital, said Miss Ozella Allen, 30, a maid, told him she encountered the assailant when she left her room after hearing a scream. She said the man was a negro.

Miss Green died of a fractured skull two hours after the attack. Miss Overdeer was also hit on the head. She is in a critical condition.

Dr. Van Nuys said the man broke into the hospital through a screened window about 3:30 this morning.

The man encountered Miss Green and slugged her, apparently with a club.

Miss Overdeer found the injured nurse and was bending over to aid her when she, too, was slugged.

HISTORY

The first known Optimist Club was formed in Buffalo, New York, in April, 1911. The second club was formed in Washington, D. C. in 1912, entirely separate from and without the knowledge of the Buffalo club. During the next six years, independent Optimist clubs were organized in various cities. In March, 1919, representatives of the then existing clubs met at Indianapolis and made plans for the first convention. At Louisville, on June 19 and 20, 1919, the 11 assembled clubs completed the organization of Optimist International, which now comprises clubs in 37 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Mexico, and four provinces in Canada. Honorary memberships are held by Optimist clubs in Bristol, England, and Sydney, Australia.

It is a remarkable coincidence that these 11 independent clubs had adopted constitutions and pledged themselves to major objectives so similar that, when they came together, they were one in purpose and enthusiasm.

"Friend of the Boy" Is Optimist Club Slogan

"Friend of the Boy" club slogan. A sympathetic understanding of youth and a genuine interest in its problems, plus a definite program of action, is said to be the motivating influence behind the "Friend of the Boy" activity of Optimist clubs throughout North America. Aid to youth will be one of the items stressed when the Sedalia Optimist club is made officially a unit of the international organization with presentation of the charter to the local group at Thursday night's charter party here.

Practical Application
An example of the practical application of that slogan was cited today by Warren L. Braly, regional extension director of Optimist International, who came to Sedalia for organizational work under sponsorship of the Kansas City, Missouri Optimist club. The example he cited is the number of boys homes over the United States which clubs participate. "The Optimist Home for boys are homes where boys who have become involved with juvenile authorities are sent for a period of training, under home conditions," he said. "A very high percentage of the boys are returned to normal living after a comparatively short period of training."

The homes are only one of the numerous Optimist projects for welfare and development of boys, Braly explained. Sponsoring of 4-H clubs, Boy Scouts, church and Y. M. C. A. groups and encouragement of many types of activities for young people are regular projects of many units of the international organization.

Seven New Clubs in State
Under the leadership of Leslie M. Holtz, director of extension Optimist International, eighty-two new Optimist clubs were organized during the present fiscal year which began July 1, 1945. Seven of the were in Missouri. They are: Clayton, Fulton, Jefferson City, Jennings, Kirkwood, Perryville and Springfield.

Mr. Holtz is past president of the Glendale, Calif., Optimist club, and past governor of district fourteen.

The Optimist Creed

Promise Yourself—
To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.
To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.
To think only of the best, to work only for the best and expect only the best.
To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.
To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.
To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

Optimism and Creed

Optimism is the spirit engendered by the Optimist Clubs throughout the country. They are part of a non-political, non-sectarian, non-secret organization established for the purpose of bringing together at frequent intervals public-spirited and progressive men from the various lines of business and recognized professions in their community. The Optimist Clubs unite members in the closest bonds of good fellowship, encourage active participation in community and civic betterment, uphold the principles of good government, bring about a better understanding among men, and teach that constructive planning, working together and exchanging views and services are better than rivalry, disagreement and destructive competition.

Warning By The GOP On Communism

State Platform Calls For Cut In Federal Payroll

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 11.—(P)—Republicans in President Truman's home state issued a platform Tuesday warning against Communism and against the president as administrative leader who, they said, permitted growth of "this un-Godly ideological monster."

The platform assailed the President also for continuing his allegiance to the Pendergast political machine in Kansas City and denounced him for using his office in "purging" Rep. Roger C. Slaughter because he opposed administration policies.

It asked for reduction of the government debt, curtailment of the federal payroll and an immediate solution of the veterans' housing problem. Elimination of government regimentation of free enterprise was demanded.

Termed As Menace

Communism is the "greatest menace to America and the peace of the world," the 2,000-word platform read. "Its growth in America is exactly commensurate with the pampering and favoritism which it has enjoyed at the hands of our national administration. It is spearheaded by the militant and brazen forces of the communistically controlled Political Action Committee (of the C. I. O.)."

"Congressional investigations reveal that communists occupy high official positions in our federal government and use those positions to stir enmity, confusion and strife among the different races and creeds of our nation."

"Missouri Republicans pledge their candidates, and their sacred honor, to fight forever the encroachment of this un-Godly ideological monster upon the life of America."

The platform was adopted late today by the Republican state convention.

Written by a pre-convention committee, it received only minor changes by a resolutions committee today. Delegates to the convention adopted it unanimously without any further changes after it was read.

"We deplore the fact that the President of the United States is an active, dues-paying member of the infamous Pendergast machine," the platform said in speaking of Truman's and the Pendergast faction's opposition to Rep. Slaughter and support of Enos A. Axtell for congressman from the Fifth Missouri district.

"We denounce the use of the office of president of the United States to purge members of congress for discharging their constitutional duties and refusing to be rubber stamps for the executive," the Republican document said in another reference to the hotly contested congressional race in which Axtell won last month.

Commend Revision

On the Missouri front, the platform commended the first Republican dominated legislature in 15 years for the job it did in revising statutes to conform with the state's 1945 constitution.

But it declared Gov. Phil M. Donnelly had been of little help in the gigantic task, "accomplished without one single constructive suggestion from the Democratic chief executive of Missouri, and often despite his vigorous opposition."

"The record is crystal clear that the principal participation by the Democratic governor x x x was a series of vetoes, many of which were obviously based solely on political considerations," the declaration continued.

The long revision sessions' work, it said, "has been hailed by experts in government as a model of modern, effective and flexible laws."

Earlier, Grover C. Dalton of Poplar Bluff, reelected to the state committee chairmanship, introduced Republican Sen. Forney C. Donnell as the only senator from Missouri.

Sen. Frank P. Briggs of Macon, Missouri's Democratic senator who is seeking reelection in the November general election, he described as "practically a walking delegate for the political action committee."

Poplar Bluff Couple Are Wed In Car

FORT SCOTT, Kas., Sept. 11.—(P)—John B. Guley, 78-year-old widower, and Evelyn Gamble, 50-year-old widow, both from Poplar Bluff, Mo., were married here on Tuesday in their automobile parked on North Main street.

Mrs. Gamble was suffering from a nail wound in her foot and was unable to walk, so after Guley obtained the license he persuaded Justice of the Peace S. C. Vennum to go to the car and perform the ceremony, as passers-by stopped to watch.

Expect Crops Hit A Record

Largest Amount Of Food Grains In All History

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—(P)—Adverse weather in some important farming areas cut down production estimates during August but a record volume of food and livestock feed crops continue in prospect, the agriculture department reported Tuesday.

This year's crop volume is expected to be two percent above the previous peak of 1942 and 26 percent higher than the 1923-32 average—although one percent less than was indicated a month ago.

Below normal temperatures in much of the north and midwest hindered development of some late crops, particularly corn, prospects for which were reduced about 125,000,000 bushels during the month. Nevertheless the largest crop on record still is indicated.

The department said the corn crop was indicated to be about 3,371,707,000 bushels on Sept. 1, compared with the previous record of 3,203,000,000 produced in 1944. The corn crop had been forecast at 3,442,202,000 in mid-August and at 3,496,820,000 on Aug. 1. By comparison the crop totalled only 3,018,410,000 last year. And 2,608,499,000 for the 1933-44 average.

An Enormous Harvest

The largest quantities of food grains in history is being harvested—over 37,000,000 tons. Winter wheat production reached a record of 879,894,000 bushels. Production prospects for spring wheat improved in August as harvest neared completion under favorable circumstances.

All wheat production was estimated at 1,167,319,000 bushels or about 44,000,000,000 bushels more than last year's record crop. Included in this year's production are 37,578,000 bushels of durum wheat and 249,847,000 bushels of other spring wheat.

The department said the aggregate production of eight principal food and seed grains is about 164,000,000 tons or about 9,000,000 more than the previous record set in 1942.

Production prospects declines during August were reported for some other late crops including soy beans, grain sorghums, cotton and peanuts. In contrast gains were registered for tobacco and rice in southern areas, where growing conditions generally improved, and by small grains, flaxseed and potatoes in northern areas.

Other crops for which record output is expected include peaches, plums and pears. Average production was reported for oats, rice, potatoes, peanuts, grapes, cherries and sugar cane. Average or better crops of soybeans, dry peas, prunes, apricots and sugar beets were still in prospect. Crops

Four Killed In Highway Crash

CORDELL, Okla., Sept. 11.—(P)—The state patrol Tuesday night completed identification of four persons killed near here in the collision of a gasoline transport and an automobile.

The patrol said Billy Laverne Glascock, 21 Cordell, and Bonnie Lee Snyder, Frederick, burned to death when they were trapped in the cab of the tractor pulling the gasoline transport. Two 5,000 gallon gasoline tanks being moved on a trailer burned fiercely for more than four hours.

A woman victim in the automobile was identified as Mrs. Erma Mae Chapman, 20, Clinton. Also killed in the car was the driver, Bill Anton Carter, 49, Clinton.

The accident occurred when the tractor struck a bridge and careened into the automobile, sending it off the highway into a ditch.

New Industrial Survey Of Sedalia Is To Be Made

One of the most important business sessions of the board of directors of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce held in an long period was that of Tuesday afternoon at the Chamber headquarters with President I. H. Reed presiding.

Numerous matters pertaining to coming events and reports on some recent achievements and developments were given.

The session started at 3 o'clock with a report from Abe Silverman, chairman of the membership committee, which showed a total of 229 new memberships which will bring in an annual revenue of $3,986. The increased membership will be further enlarged when prospects who have been on vacation, or away from the city, are contacted.

Plans were also discussed briefly on the Kansas State-Missouri University B team football game to be played here.

Trophies To Winners

Leon Archibald, chairman of the agricultural division, announced that the Chamber of Commerce was giving trophies to the prize winners at the Missouri Aberdeen-Angus show to be held at Sedalia at the fair grounds on September 16-17, and also for the Polled Shorthorn Breeders show to be here on October 29.

J. F. Downs, general agent for the Missouri Pacific, and director chairman of the chamber on industrial development announced that committee plans a new industrial survey. His outline of the plans was fully approved. A discussion was also held relative to the coming Community Chest drive in October for which a general chairman and committees remain to be selected.

It was voted during the session to take membership in the National Better Business bureau.

Easy Payments

Public's Credit is Good, But it Still Pays Cash

By MARC J. PARSONS
NEA Staff Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. America are just beginning to feel their way back into the credit structure of the nation. And the nation's business men are waiting with open arms to receive them.

The individual credit of millions of Americans—of big incomes and small—is excellent, credit experts agree. The chances are that the buying public will make more and more use of it in the coming months.

Right now, however, several important considerations are holding them back. First and most important is the scarcity of goods normally bought on credit, either as charge purchases or by installment buying. Another retarding factor probably is the government's Regulation W which set down payment requirements fairly high—20 per cent to one-third of the purchase price—and limits the pay-off period to 15 months.

Credit Business Up

Retail selling organizations already are noting an increase in charge and installment sales over the lean war years. Figures indicate that such buying is just beginning to approach pre-war volume, but in view of the tremendous increase in total sales volume credit selling has a long way to go before it really gets its share of the post-war business.

In 1940, a good pre-war year, total retail sales reached $46.4 billion, of which $29.9 billion was in cash, $10.7 billion in charge sales and $5.8 billion in installment buying. By 1945, the last available, the total sales had jumped to $74.6 billion, reflecting increases in population, earning power and pent-up demand. Of this amount, the overwhelming majority was bought with cash—$38.3 billion. Charge sales were above pre-war, $14.0 billion, while installment sales were down to $2.3 billion.

But partially completed figures since the first of the year indicate a gradual increase in both installment and charge account buying. Inquiries by merchants for individual credit ratings from the Credit Bureau of Greater New York are equal to or above 1940 levels for the first months of the year. This is generally true of all of the 150 odd members of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America.

Credit men in general are welcoming a return to that form of buying. In fact, they are looking for new ways to corral credit and installment business, both now and in the future. One of the nation's largest installment finance companies, which got its start in the automobile business, already is making a bid for the future personal airplane business. They will finance airplane purchases and even are willing to throw in insurance and special service along with the time-payment contract. Up to now the set down-payment requirements fairly high—20 per cent to one-third of the purchase price—and limits the pay-off period to 15 months.

Another depression will leave the account books piled high with bad debts. The last one wasn't too bad, they claim, and they have an undying faith in the average American to pay his bills promptly and in full.

Depression Debts Paid

During the worst years of the depression, bad debts in retail credit sales never were more than 1.5 per cent of the total volume of such sales, and most of these bad accounts eventually paid off, some of them as late as the war years when merchants unexpectedly found themselves receiving money for some of the very few accounts they once labeled as "non-collectable."

On the average, less than .4 of one per cent of the credit sales are turned to bad, and today the average is even below that, as low as .1 of one per cent in some cases. Credit business is good business, credit men feel.

This doesn't mean that you can walk in and get credit for anything you want to buy. It only means that if your credit is good, you can buy that way and that if you never have established a credit rating, but credit bureau records have nothing against you, you will in all probability get what credit you want.

Early Rally On Stock Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—(AP)—The stock market today snapped out of its recent slump with a fast early rally that lifted leaders 1 to 6 points at the best although the push later subsided to a certain extent.

Dealings and prices generally tapered by midday and slowdowns were frequent from then on. Top marks were reduced in the majority of cases near the close. Transfers of around 2,700,000 shares compared with 3,300,000 on Thursday.

Bonds hardened selectively.

Grain Futures Eased

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Grain futures eased today, although extreme losses were reduced on moderate buying in the session.

Failure of the local Commodity Credit Corporation to purchase wheat this week under its new buying program and the agriculture department's forecast of bumper wheat, corn and oats harvests were the main reasons for marking down prices.

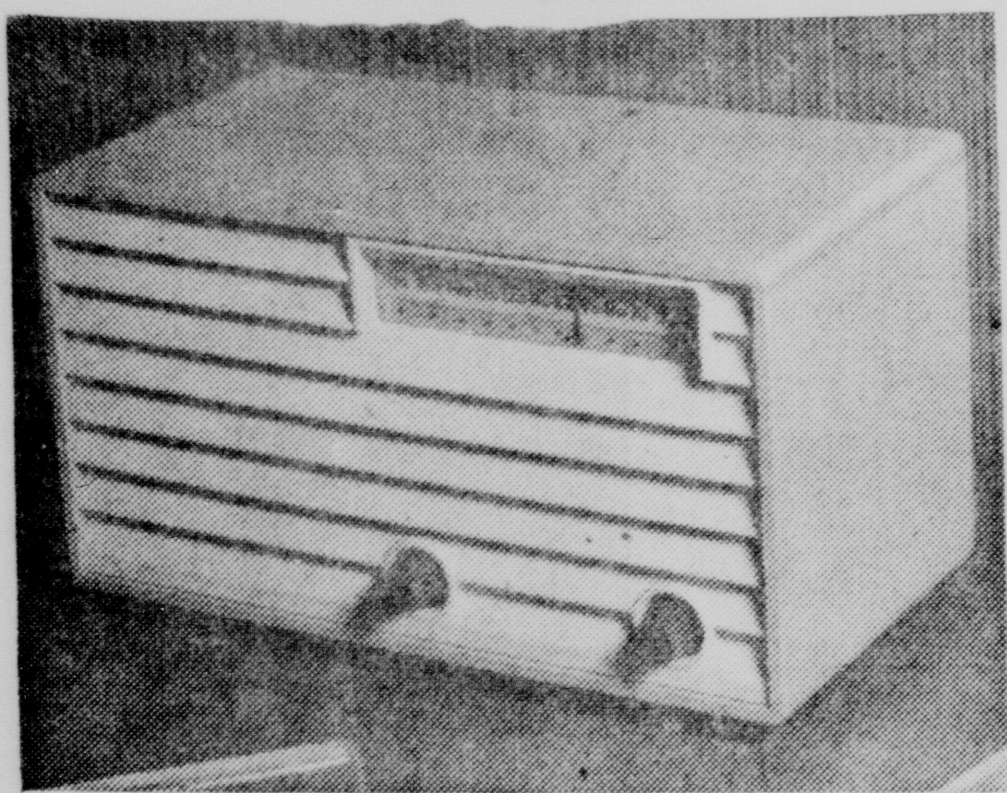

While spot prices of cash grains were about steady, a leading processor reported its bid on a hard red crop corn grading No. 2 yellow to $1.81 for 18-day shipment. Yesterday the bid was $1.83.

September oats were relatively firm. Wheat after selling down as much as 5 cents, closed on losses of 1 1/4 to 3 cents, January $1.94 1/2. Corn was off 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents, January $1.91 1/2, and oats were unchanged to 1/4 cent lower, September 77 1/2c.

Ramblers Meet Junior Legion At 8 Tonight

The Sedalia Ramblers and the Junior Legion baseball teams will play the first game of a five game series tonight at Liberty park. The play will begin at 8 o'clock.

Both teams have good win records for the season, as well as the excellent pitching, hitting and fielding records that they have shown during the year. Both managers are confident of victory.

With their records as an example, the games should produce a lot of fine plays and plenty of excitement.

Manager John Summers will start 'Lefty' Green on the mound for the Ramblers, with McMacKer on the receiving end. Since Green joined the Ramblers about a month ago he has won six for the team while losing only one.

Erbert as Hurler

Manager John Thomas is going to have 'Big Jim' Egbert as his hurler with Barbour catching.

The Ramblers have five men in their lineup that are hitting over the .300 mark with another man crowding close to it.

The lineups are as follows:
Junior Legion — Waters 3b, Walker 1b, Thomas ss, Tuggle 2b, Barbour c, Momborg cf, Ruffin lf, Holst rf, Egbert p, Imhauser p.

Sedalia Ramblers — McMackin c, Light ss, Taylor 3b, Evans 2b, Smith 1b, G. Thompson rf, Sullivan lf, Waters cf, Green p, Corbett p.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
SPRINGFIELD, Sept. 11.—(AP)—On the scoreboard in the press room at Baitusol, there's a printed slip saying: "The legend of Baitusol: murder on the mountain." Except for the fact that the championship course is down at the foot of the hill, that would describe last night's sudden death play with those vicious dive bombers known as Jersey mosquitoes attacking contestants and gallery. It isn't surprising that such notable golfers as ex-champion Johnny Fischer and 1941 semi-finalist Bobby Riegel were eliminated. "Skeet" Riegel, whose real name is Robert, tells how he went to college at Lafayette and attended West Point for a while "before anybody got me." There wasn't anything wrong with his mathematics on the golf course when he added that five-under-par 67 to his first round 69.

Shorts and Shells
When the Chicago Bears had trouble finding a place to work out in Boston before their pro football exhibition against the Yanks, Harvard, a noted stronghold of amateurism, made its whole athletic plant available for three days.

And no doubt Dick Harlow would like to collar some of the Bears' castoffs.

George Mamer, Georgia's inter-collegiate champion, spent a week turning up for the current national amateur golf by playing against Bobby Jones in Atlanta. Jones, who found out all about Baitusol 20 years ago, picks his Georgia as the real corner among the younger golfers.

Walter Hagen, Jr., fired three sixes on his last nine holes here yesterday and missed out on qualifying. It's a good thing his pen wasn't around with a hair brush. P. S. On golf: Oklahoma's Andy Anderson still argues: "I can lick this course."

Mighty Smart
When Mighty Story won at Anquet last week at the sweet price of $68 for $2, Trainer Burtley Parke wired owner John Natch in advance that the colt was in great shape.

Before the Western Union operators finished passing the word around, nearly every telegrapher in the country had a couple of bucks on the horse's nose.

Ticket Orders Swamp Red Sox

The greatest sweepstakes in Boston's history is under way with thousands of people sending in their money orders to Fenway Park trying to secure tickets for the world series. Sacred Heart Wins From Concordia 2-0

The Sacred Heart Red Birds journeyed to Concordia Tuesday, where under the lights they played the softball team of that place and won a shutout game 2 to 0. Tommy Sanders, pitcher for the Birds, was "the man of the game."

Sanders hurled an excellent game, getting ten strikeouts and allowed but one hit. He then hit a smashing home run drive to the outfield with one man on base to score him.

The Birds got six hits.

Thursday night the Birds go to Houston to play.

All is Quiet in The Brooklyn Team Bullpen

'Lippy Leo' Has His Pitching Staff in Trim for the Cards' Visit to Dodgertown

By Jack Hand

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

All is quiet in the Brooklyn bullpen where the overworked relief artists have been squatting for a week, watching in wonder as five straight starters have gone the route.

Not since Sept. 3 when Kirby Higbe faltered in the eighth against the Phils has Coach Chuck Dressen felt the urge to wig-wag for help. Hugh Casey, Art Herring, Hank Behrman and Ralph Branca must feel they have been on a seven-day vacation in the midst of the flag fight.

It couldn't happen at a more opportune time as far as Manager Leo Durocher is concerned, for the scrappy Brook skipper has been trying to restore a semblance of order to his pitching staff with the all-important St. Louis series opening tomorrow.

Rube Melton's three-hit, 8-0 shutout over Cincinnati yesterday may have clinched him a day's work against St. Louis, because he beat Howie Pollett last time the Red Birds were in town.

The Dodgers drove Ed Heusser from the hill in the second inning.

St. Louis held tight to its two-game lead by mowing down the Phils, 4-1, in a night game witnessed by 30,085 fans. Harry Brecheen, now finding his stride after a wobbly start, allowed only six hits in defeating Blix Donnelly, a former teammate on the 1944 World Series winners.

The Boston Braves took out after the third-place Chicago Cubs and hammered them into submission, 10-2. Johnny Sain's 17th victory left the Braves only 3 1/2 games behind the Bruins.

Pittsburgh took first blood in the cellar series with New York, dumping the Giants, 7-4, to leave them only four points removed from last place. Al Gearheuser's two-hit relief pitching job over the last 7 1/2 innings featured.

The Boston Red Sox had to postpone their pennant clinching celebration for at least one more day when they fell before Detroit 9-1. A win over the Tigers today would give Boston its first flag since 1918.

Detroit took over second place by three points over New York when the Yankees were beaten at Cleveland, 4-2. The loss eliminated the Yanks' last mathematical possibility of tying the Red Sox.

Two home runs by Gerry Priddy on successive times at the plate helped Washington down Chicago, 4-2, giving Marino Pieretti a decision in his first starting chore of the season. St. Louis kept alive its hopes of topping the second division by trimming Philadelphia, 5-1.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—In side fact on the jumbled strike is that both the AFL and the CIO maritime unions could have had a $22.50 monthly increase as early as last June if there hadn't been friction between two powerful labor leaders—Harry Bridges of the west coast longshoremen and Joe Curran of the maritime union.

What happened was that last May Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and Granville Conway, war shipping administrator, had a talk with Hoyt Haddock, the Washington representative for Curran's CIO maritime union. Both agreed that the seamen were entitled to a substantial wage boost. The tentative figure of $30 a month was mentioned, with time-and-a-half for work over 48 hours.

Haddock later sent a telegram to both Bridges and Curran reporting this and to his amazement got a hot wire back from Bridges telling Haddock to mind his own business. Bridges even told Haddock to go back to Schwellenbach and Conway and inform them to disregard their previous conversation. This Haddock did.

Labor Retreats
Later, when the CIO maritime strike was called, public reaction flared. The railroad strike had occurred only a short time before and congress was seething with labor resentment. The Case bill was under discussion and labor leaders knew that if the CIO maritime unions went out on the strike, drastic anti-labor legislation not only would pass congress but would not be vetoed by the White House.

So in the end, CIO leaders settled for $17.50 a month increase. This was far below the $30 figure tentatively discussed by Haddock with Schwellenbach and Conway before Harry Bridges had wired him to mind his own business.

On June 26, just twelve days after the $17.50 award was fixed, Captain Conway, who, as war shipping administrator, operated 70 per cent of the nation's ships, completely ignored the $17.50 for the CIO and agreed to $22.50 for AFL seamen.

Obviously this meant bitter war between the CIO-AFL rivals. Also it meant trouble with the wage stabilization board, which had just set the increase at $17.50. However, Mr. Conway blundered ahead just the same.

So later, when the wage stabilization board scaled down the AFL's $22.50 to the CIO's $17.50, the AFL struck. The whole tie-up could have been avoided by a little more government foresight—largely on the part of Captain Conway.

YDR's Exiled SEC
While the diplomats battle publicly over "displaced persons" and migration to Palestine, big business is battling privately over a "displaced agency" in Washington.

The Securities and Exchange commission, exiled to Philadelphia in 1942, now wants to come back home. But reactionary congressmen and bureaucrats, secretly egged on by big business, are opposed.

SEC watchdog of the stock market, was one of Franklin Roosevelt's first and best reforms. Remembering the watered stock and phoney deals which helped bring on the 1929 crash, nobody can deny SEC's importance. However, pro-big business and pro-utility elements in congress and the budget bureau have sniped at SEC for years, cutting its appropriations, considered it a major victory to get SEC out of Washington.

Now these defenders-of-the-dividend have vowed to keep SEC in Philadelphia where it can't defend itself, can't cooperate closely with other bureaus, can't crack down on utility lobbyists now running wild in the capitol.

Final decision for the Jimmy Byrnes speech on Germany was imparted to high officials in Washington about 12 days before he made it. The suspicion is that the Russians learned about it at the same time.

Byrnes phoned President Truman about 12 days in advance, told him the Russians were on the rampage, that nothing could be done to satisfy them. He therefore proposed that the United States and Great Britain try to set up a German government which could be won over to democracy and which could serve as a bulwark against Russia.

President Truman, who has come to put complete trust in Byrnes' judgment, agreed.

Whether or not the Russians tapped the trans-Atlantic phone, or whether they had other ways of knowing what was going on is anyone's guess. Maybe it was just coincidence.

Anyway, it was shortly after this that foreign minister Molotov made his sudden, mystery flight to Moscow. Simultaneously, inspired stories began to leak out of Poland that Russia would take Silesia away from Poland and give it to Germany. Obviously this was German-bait to counteract the offers Byrnes was going to make to Germany.

If Russia goes ahead with this policy of "The Soviet giveth and the Soviet taketh away," it will cause the toughest showdown so far experienced between Moscow and Washington.

The categorical Byrnes-Truman position is that the Soviet can neither "giveth nor taketh" without the consent of its Allies, that Germany's boundaries are to be decided only at the final peace treaty—which Russia so far has refused to call.

DEVIL'S LAUGHTER

By Alice M. Laverick
Copyright, 1946,
NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: I, Cecelia Hart, was only 17 when I came to Innisfail that evening summer to help out Cousin Ellen, who was the Fitzgeralds' housekeeper. Autocratic old Honora Fitzgerald, who ruled the household from a sick bed, frightened me but the friendliness of her daughter, Charlotte, and Professor Mark Fitzgerald, to whom she was engaged, did much to allay my misgivings. Then Colin Fitzgerald came home and everything else paled beside his magnetic charm. At dinner that first evening, though, I noticed that he and Mark did not get along. Father Gene tried to keep peace between them and took his leave when dinner was over.

COLIN sauntered over to the huge grand piano and began to play casual chords lightly and no one spoke for a moment. Then Mark, filling his pipe and gazing around the room in an abstracted manner, scowled suddenly and said, "This room is an atrocity, that's what it is."

Colin, still playing soft chords, raised his eyebrows in faint surprise and Miss Charlotte said, "Mark, why do you always say things like that about this room? I love it. It's so airy and well-lighted and I'm sure it's comfortable." She leaned her head against the high backed chair and the dull rose of the tapestry intensified the black of her hair and the blue of her eyes.

"That I'll grant you," said Mark, his own gray eyes softening as he looked at her. "But it could still be all of that and yet not so utterly at odds with the good architecture of the original house. Look at those mouldings—gold, and you. Gold. And that fireplace. To my mind, it's desecration for a man to take such liberties with such a fine dignified dwelling as this one."

From where I lurked in the far corner of the room, straightening magazines on tables and smoothing chair cushions already smooth, I stole a glance at the despised fireplace and I still thought it beautiful.

"Remember it was your father who did the ignoble deed," Colin said. "But I had no idea you were so well versed in the arts. Sure, I thought mathematics and science were your specialties."

"Any fool knows that much about architecture," said Mark shortly.

COLIN shrugged and continued playing, drifting now into Strauss waltzes and bits from the classics.

I was watching in utter fascination his brown hands on the keys, when I was startled to hear Mark say, "In heaven's name, need you make so many mistakes? It's a wonder Schubert doesn't turn over in his grave."

"Maybe he does, who knows?" Colin said. "However, I've never laid claim to being a Paderewski—or even a Father Gene. I just amuse myself."

"Well, you don't amuse me. Listening to the music of the great interpreted by fumbling amateurs has never been a passion of mine. As a matter of fact," Mark rose, "I have some papers to correct, if you'll excuse me." He stopped by Charlotte's chair and laid his hand for a moment on her hair and looked down into her eyes. Then he was gone, and I suddenly realized that I had been in the room for a long while and Cousin Ellen would be furious.

In my haste, I dropped the napkins and when I had rescued them I glanced once more at the two who were left.

Miss Charlotte, looking apologetically at Colin, was saying, "He's very tired, you know."

But Colin was laughing. "My brother is a perfectionist," he said. And then his laugh disappeared. His eyes swept over her to where the light flashed on the diamond on her white hand, then they returned to rest on her face again. His eyes met and held hers, while a faint color stained her cameo-like face. "Yes," he said slowly, "my brother is indeed a perfectionist."

I crept from the room, no one noticing.

THE storm came back again late that night and raged for an hour.

Cousin Ellen pattered into my room and peered at me anxiously two or three times, pattering again upon seeing me so sound asleep. I lay very still each time with my eyes closed, though it was some time before I really slept. I did not mind the storm, indeed, I rather enjoyed it. Nor was I lonely nor unhappy. Rather, on this my third night at Innisfail I thought what a wonderful place it was to be, how drab and uneventful life would be anywhere else. For Colin Fitzgerald had smiled at me, had called me "Little Saint Cecelia" and said I'd be seeing more of each other. Even though he had not noticed me at all, after that.

I was to grow used to not being noticed that summer and it was a bit puzzling at first. I had been brought up, to be sure, on the old-fashioned theory that children should not be exploited. And I had not, in any case, been the showy type of child who is held up before friends and relations by proud, beaming parents.

Nevertheless, I had not before experienced quite the feeling of nonentity I was to have during most of that summer. My mother, at least, had a way of acknowledging my existence by being extremely careful what she talked about to women visitors in my presence. I think it was the lack of this reserve before me in the Innisfail household that was a constant source of surprise to me.

I came to the conclusion, finally, that it was the usual attitude of those who are rich enough and fortunate enough to employ servants. And, too, I was so very young, so colorless, so quiet.

No one ever spoke harshly to me. Indeed, at such times as they remembered me as a person, the Fitzgeralds treated me without an atom of condescension. Those amazing Fitzgeralds. As my mother would say, you never knew where you had them.
